PRES. WILSON RECEIVES LT. COM. READ

Paris, June 4.—President Wilson today received Lieut. Commander A. C. Read, commander of the NC-4; Commander P. N. L. Ballinger, commander of the flight of the three seaplanes which attempted to fly from America to Europe; and Lieut. Commander P. N. L. Ballinger, commander of the NC-4. He congratulated them and expressed pride in the work they accomplished during the flight. The American naval aviators also were received by the French Minister of Marine. They left at noon for England.

WANTS U. S. PROTECTORATE OVER GERMANY

(By Associated Press)

Berlin, Tuesday, June 3.—There seems to be a widespread demand on the part of Germans that efforts be made to induce America to enter into a sort of limited alliance with Germany to take a protectorate over this country, giving Germany financial aid and protection and taking in return the lion's share of the profits of the country's industrial activity. This sentiment which first made its appearance last December appears to have become stronger very recently.

COSSACK LEADER CALLS FOR A CONGRESS

(By Associated Press)

London, June 4.—Gen. Samenoff, leader of the Cossacks in eastern Siberia has called a Congress which has declared the autonomy of Mongolia, according to a wireless dispatch from Moscow. The congress, the Bolshevik messenger adds, elected Semenov "Grand Duke of Mongolia."

Council of Four to Make Up Decision on German Counter Proposal—Plans for Liquidation of Food Supplies

(By Associated Press)

There is reason to believe, according to advices from Paris, that the Council of Four will reach a decision by tomorrow as to the reply that will be made to the German counter proposals to the terms of peace. Allied experts are now at work on the reply. Premier Clemenceau is understood to maintain firmly that there can be no important changes in the clauses of the treaty to which the Germans have entered their strongest objections. There are indications, however, of a strong undercurrent of sentiment to meet the German offer of a definite sum of 100,000,000 marks as indemnity instead of the indeterminate sum that might be demanded under the terms as presented. The clauses of the pact relating to Silesia may be modified so that Germany will be able to receive supplies of grain, coal and other commodities. In spite of the transfer to Poland of sovereignty over that region, the Supreme Economic Council has appointed a committee to study a plan for liquidation of the world's food control, and to devise plans to meet the problems that will arise after the coming harvest. Dispatches from Paris state that after the signing of the peace treaty the United States cannot legally participate in the control of food supplies and Herbert C. Hoover, the Chairman of the Interallied Food Commission believes that the business can be handled through regular channels.

MARINES LANDED AT COSTA RICA

(By Associated Press)

San Salvador, June 4.—American Marines have been landed at Puntarenas and Port Limon, Costa Rica, because of the revolution against the government headed by Gen. Tenorio according to dispatches printed in newspapers here. The revolution in Costa Rica has been in progress two months. Forces recruited from political exiles formed bands along the Nicaraguan frontier near Lake Nicaragua and advanced southward. Puntarenas is on the Pacific coast of Costa Rica and is the Pacific terminus of the railroad extending across Costa Rica to Port Limon, the most important harbor on the Atlantic side.

Washington, June 4.—No information regarding the reported landing of American forces in Costa Rica had reached either the Navy or State Department today and Secretary Daniels said he doubted any landing had been made. If any men were sent ashore they were sailors, as the only marine detachment in the vicinity is the legion guard in Nicaragua and officials said it could not be moved without specific authority from Washington.

ANARCHIST RESPONSIBLE FOR BOMB OUTRAGES

(By Associated Press)

Pittsburg, June 4.—Evidence that the anarchists responsible for bomb explosions at the home of Judge W. H. Thompson of the U. S. District Court and W. W. Skiray, Chief Inspector of the Bureau of Immigration, Monday night, were operating under orders from Russian radical headquarters at 133 East 15th St., New York, was in possession of the police today. According to an announcement by the Superintendent of the Bureau of Police, John Johnson, President of the local I. W. W. organization, who was arrested yesterday, came to Pittsburg from New York two weeks ago at the instance of "No. 1001," William D. Haywood, President of the National I. W. W., according to the police, bears the pass No. 1001.

New York, June 4.—New York police said today they had no evidence to support the theory of Pittsburg detectives that the anarchists responsible for bomb explosions acted under orders from the Russian radical headquarters at 133 East 15th Street, this city. The house in question has been under surveillance since last March.

Nearly 10,000 people participated in the city's welcome to the returned soldiers at Newport, Vt., on Tuesday.

KILLED HIS BROTHER WITH BASEBALL BAT

(By Associated Press)

Greenfield, Mass., June 4.—Alvin Caulkins, a mechanic, was arrested today on the charge of murder several hours after the body of his brother-in-law, Robert Lawless, had been found at the Caulkins' home with his head crushed by a blow from a baseball bat. Caulkins pleaded not guilty and was held without bail for a hearing June 5. The police were unable to assign any cause for the murder.

BIG BILL FLYNN TO RUN DOWN BOMB THROWERS

(By Associated Press)

Washington, June 4.—Following the creation of a new bureau by the Department of Justice, with William J. Flynn as its head, and which will have as its paramount duty the crushing of anti-government movements in this country, agents of the Federal government throughout the country and detective forces in this and scores of other cities today renewed with vigor their efforts to run down those responsible for Monday night's bomb explosions. Although the authorities are working behind a tightly drawn veil of secrecy, it was stated that no tangible clues that might lead to the apprehension of the plotters have been found. Public buildings and homes of officials continue to be under extra guard as a precautionary measure.

Widdford and Saco, Me., are planning a joint celebration for the Fourth of July as a welcome home for the patriotic men and women who served in the world war, and has a large committee to make plans for that purpose. Portland should wake up and get busy and have a welcome home celebration for its returning men that will be a credit to our old historic city.

We are pleased to announce that we have obtained for this city the exclusive sale of the Nationally known and Nationally favored

Wirthmor and Welworth Waists

—After a very careful investigation we have arranged to distribute these two nationally-known and nationally-favored lines of Waists in this city. Before deciding on this step we learned the Wirthmor and Welworth Waists were being handled by many of the best stores in America; that they had attained through their unvarying excellence a nation-wide popularity; that because of the unique Wirthmor Plan under which they are made and sold that they always represented the highest possible standard of value in popular price Blouses, and further because of this very unusual method of making and selling Waists we would be able to show the new and wanted styles first, in many instances long in advance of their appearance in the market generally.

These are America's only known priced Waists, and they are sold at the same low prices the nation over.

NEWINGTON

Newington, June 3.—A week with out rain and the wind which has prevailed has dried the earth so that the land can be worked. Farmers are now busy.

Memorial Day dawned bright and fair and nearly every family in our town and those from surrounding towns, who have loved ones laid to rest here, visited the cemetery and decorated their lots and the graves of dear ones. The graves of the soldiers were, of course, fittingly decorated.

The schools held Memorial exercises on Thursday evening and their annual exhibition of the work performed by the pupils in manual training, sewing and cooking. The pupils and teachers deserve much praise for their pains-taking work which was the result of their efforts.

The program was pleasing, interesting and amusing. Each pupil deserves much praise for each performed his or her part well. The singing by the schools is worthy of special mention. The program consisted of the following:

Music, Orchestra.
Flag Salute, Star Spangled Banner.
Recitation, America, the Beautiful.
Six young misses.
Song, There's a Flag.
Little Tynna of the Republic.
Play, Little Food Folks.
Columbia the Gem of the Ocean.
Orchestra.
On the Road to Home Sweet Home.
March, March! March!
Play, Closing Day at J. J. J. J.
School.
Swing Song.
Medley of War Songs.

Dutch Song.
March, March!
America.
Music, Orchestra.

Two girls.
Grammar pupils.
Superintendent.
School.

The exercises were much enjoyed by both parents and friends of the pupils. A whilst party was held in the town hall on Friday evening and, as usual, was well attended and enjoyed by a good number.

Much business was transacted at this extra school meeting which was held in the Town Hall on Saturday afternoon. A vote was passed to build a new stone school house and the plans for the same which were presented by the school board and the special committee was accepted.

Meetings from time to time will be held by the committee in charge.

The death of Miss Lydia Furber occurred at her home on May Road Thursday night. The sudden summons of this estimable lady was a shock to the community for she retired that night apparently in her usual health but shortly afterwards was stricken and before long the death angel bore her away to the home beyond.

Miss Furber's health has been delicate for some years and she failed steadily of late, but up to the time of her death she was able to perform her daily round of duties. She was rather reserved, and preferred home life to a social one. But when a helping hand was needed was always ready and her kind manner, unselfishness and sympathy for those in trouble will be long remembered by her neighbors and friends who feel that her long and faithful life has been well lived, and she will be greatly missed by those who knew her well and by those in her neighborhood.

The Herald has been boosting Ports mouth for many years and it welcomes all new converts.

Later in the day a committee from the builders met representatives of the Carpenters' Union and the matter was adjusted. The increase to 80 cents was granted.

It was claimed that the lobsters were to be shipped to Massachusetts. ARREST MADE IN BOMB
OUTRAGE

(By Associated Press)

Boston, June 3—A reward of $1000 was offered late today by District Attorney N. A. Turtis for any information leading to the conviction of the men who made the attempt to destroy the home of Representative Powers at Newtonville last night. The police have been at work all day on the bomb outrage at Newtonville and at Roxbury where the house of Judge Albert Hayden was damaged.

Ernest Graudal was arrested and is being held. The police assert that he was connected with the May day riot and that in searching his rooms much anarchist literature was found and other matters in a foreign tongue. He will be arraigned before Judge Hayden Wednesday charged with rioting. Federal agents have placed at the disposal of the police the activities of Graudal and they claim that he has attended many of the I. W. W. meetings.

The Brookline police were notified tonight that a threat had been made to blow up the home of an associate justice of Boston courts, at Drexel's line. He is away with his family but relatives who are staying at the house informed the police that they were called by telephone and a man told them that they were going to blow up the house, after asking if the judge was at home. The relatives promptly notified the police and closed the house.

Washington, June 3—Investigation of the bomb outrages in eight cities have convinced the Federal department of Justice that they are all of the same origin. The work of an unknown group of anarchist, who sought to terrorize the country by sending the May day bombs through the mail. The Washington police devoted the day in an effort to reassemble the remains of the man who was blown to pieces in his failure to destroy the house of Attorney-General Palmer. The police are convinced that he came from Philadelphia and hope to get more facts from his body.

The police in New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Newton, Boston and Patterson are at work in a wide hunt along with the Department of Justice.

MAY MAKE CONCESSIONS TO GERMANY

(By Associated Press)

There is a possibility that Germany may as the result of her strong counter proposal, get some lessening of the terms of the peace terms. She argues that it will be impossible to fulfill the financial obligation imposed by the allies and her protest against the taking away of certain territorial rights in both the east and west fronts, is receiving some consideration.

Paris reports have it that in certain quarters there is an inclination to favor Germany's view-point. A full discussion of the financial and economic questions have been held by President Wilson and his experts. Great Britain it is understood is in favor of certain concessions; while France continues to offer objections to any change being made. The United States are said to be in favor of certain minor changes but do not go to the extent that Great Britain does.

The German government is incensed over the British provinces declaring themselves a republic and they have ordered the arrest of Dr.

Dordan the head of the movement. Germany has protested to the Peace Conference over the action of the French troops in the occupied area, who have it is claimed favored the revolution and Germany declares that it is high treason against the German government.

The strike of dissatisfaction in the American sector, has been quickly suppressed by the American commanders who promptly ordered it dropped.

The Supreme Council have been appealed to by the Lithuanian government, to have a commission investigate the actions of the Poles in the occupied territory of Lithuania.

The head of the Austrian delegation Dr. Remyr has departed from St. Germain for Austria carrying the terms of the treaty. Reports from Hungary are that there are new revolutionary breaking out in the smaller towns.

Sweden and Denmark have joined with Switzerland and Norway in declaring that they will not enforce a blockade against Germany in the event that she refuse to sign the treaty, they claim it would be a breach of their neutrality.

(By Associated Press)

Boston, June 3—Six persons were indicted by the Federal grand jury today charged with issuing counterfeit money. Alfred Martello of Worcester pleaded guilty but the others not guilty. STOCK MARKET
HAS A BAD BREAK

New York, June 3—The Stock Market, which had maintained a firm position following a long rise, dating back to Jan. 21, broke in the last hour of trading today on news of the resignation of Frank A. Vanderlip as president of the National City Bank. In a few minutes values had melted so fast that the market became panicky. United States Steel dropped four points. Mexican Petroleum was off 14. Standard Oil dropped 12 before the close. Southern Pacific yielded 4 points and American Woolen at 16 1-2 was off more than 14 points. The last few minutes of trading were devoted to a wild scramble to unload throughout the list. Many stop orders were uncovered, which added to the general liquidation.

The bears made the most of their opportunities right up to the sound of the bell. American woolen was forced off by a large sale with a loss of 13 was recorded. The close was near the bottom on most lines.

FIREMENS

BIG FIELD EXPECTED FOR NEXT SHOOT

There will be a good sized field out for the weekly shoot at the Portsmouth Country Club on Saturday afternoon. The Committee will announce the events later, but all of the gunners who are to enter the state shoot at Exeter on the 27-28 are anxious to get in all of the practice they can before that date and plan to shoot at least one a week.

Portsmouth will put in a team of five men into the state team match and they are hoping to make a good showing if not take away the first prize. The prospective members of the team will be F. A. Belden, captain; Charles A. Allen, Henry B. Tilton, C. W. Dodge and Harry Green, with Ira and John Shuttleworth, R. B. Hann and Manning Kinnick as substitutes. The committee are planning to have a series of team matches for the July attractions at the traps. There are team matches for the July attractions at the traps. There are teams enough and they will try and arrange at least two or three for the month.

GETTING HOTELS READY FOR OPENING

The majority of the summer hotels in this section of the coast have their crews at work getting ready for the season, as many of them will open the middle of the month and all of them about the twentieth. They are all very optimistic about the business this year as their bookings are way ahead of any pre-war times.

TO HOLD
ODD FELLOWS
MEMORIAL

The Osgood Lodge I. O. O. F. will hold their annual Memorial service on Sunday June 23. They will attend services at two o'clock at the Court Street Christian church and following the services will go to the cemetery where they will decorate the graves of the members.

VANDERLIP RESIGNS AS HEAD OF NATIONAL CITY BANK

New York, June 3—Frank A. Vanderlip announced today his resignation as president of the National City Bank. He was elected president in January, 1909.

James A. Sullivan, son of the late James A. Sullivan, former president of the bank, which is one of the largest in the world has been elected to succeed Mr. Vanderlip.

NAVY WILL JUNK TWELVE
BATTLESHIPS

Washington, June 3—Twelve dreadnaught battleships will be relieved of active duty with the fleet placed out of commission and probably eventually broken up for junk or used as targets by more modern vessels under the plan now being worked out by the Navy Department. The ships are not considered to be of any value against latest type fighting craft.

The historic squadron comprising battleships Oregon, Indiana, Iowa and Massachusetts already has been released to the scrap heap. The others apparently doomed to the same fate are the battleships Kearsage, Kentucky, Maine, Illinois, Alabama, Wisconsin, Missouri and Ohio.

The vessels, built between 1893 and 1901, represent a total expenditure for hulls and machinery alone of more than $90,000,000.

When placed out of commission they will release for other duty 10,000 enlisted men and 400 officers.

All were used during the war with Germany as training ships or coast defense units. Slow of speed, with small coal capacity, inferior ordnance equipment and insufficient protection against present-day projectiles the ships, if kept in commission, would be more of a liability than an asset in the opinion of naval experts. They are armed with old type 12 and 13-inch guns.

Oregon Offered to State

The historic old Oregon has been offered to the state of Oregon to be used as the State flag for memorial purposes and probably will be accepted. The Iowa, Indiana and Massachusetts probably will be broken up as they contain much copper and brass. The others will probably be used as targets for experiments in the effects of modern gunfire, as was the old Texas. It has been suggested that number of the vessels could be well utilized as coast defense units by sinking them in shallow water at the entrance to important harbors, making them veritable forts. It is possible that four of them will be used for this purpose.

Early Battleships Left

With these twelve ships, stricken from the Navy register, the fleet will comprise 40 dreadnaughts and pre-dreadnaughts, 20 of the most modern type, and 11 of slightly older class but still formidable units, all of them of the "all big gun" type of construction. Included in the dreadnaught class are the ships from the Michigan and South Carolina classes through the new Colorado and Massachusetts class, not yet completed. Eight of the ships are armed with 12-inch guns, eleven with 14-inch and the remaining ten are being equipped with 16-inch turret guns, the most powerful naval batteries afloat.

The older vessels to be retained are the Virginia, Nebraska, Georgia, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Louisiana, Vermont, Kansas, Minnesota and New Hampshire. All of them have composite batteries of 12 and eight-inch guns. They range in tonnage from the Virginia class of 10,000 tons to the New Hampshire type of nearly 18,000 tons.

Six Battle Cruisers Coming

In addition to this powerful fleet of forty battleships, there are now authorized and under suspended construction six battle cruisers planned on a scale never before attempted by any navy. They will be 850 feet in length, estimated displacement 35,000 tons and will mount eight 16-inch guns. The contract speed is thirty-five knots. Secretary Daniels has recommended that construction be immediately resumed on these ships.

THE SELLS-FLOTO CIRCUS

The only truly real "Happy Family" is in the circus. And the ideal "Happy Family" in the circus is in the monkey cage. According to the animal trainer the old idea of "having a regular monkey and parrot cage" doesn't apply at all.

"Monkeys are a sociable lot," says the animal trainer, "and the only fighting they do is among themselves. Put a dog, a pig, a cat or even a parrot in the cage with them, and after a little preliminary coyness they will be regular pals. When the Sells-Floto circus left Denver this spring the monkeys had a big black crow for companion. They were great chums, and the crow cuddled up to the monkeys just like they were its own kind. When the crow died the monkeys grieved just like folks. A little terrier is now taking the crow's place in the cage, and has already become a prime favorite in monkey society."

The Sells-Floto circus, which will give two performances in Portsmouth, Friday, June 6, makes a specialty of animals that appeal to children, and which aid them in their natural history studies. There are tiny monkeys, and baby tigers, and youngster lions, and a baby elephant that was named "Bibby Sunday," on a notable day when the strenuous evangelist spent a whole day with the circus and other animals that have an especial appeal to the kiddies.

The performances promised for the big show are varied enough to suit every kind of a circus lover, running the entire gamut from comedy to tragedy. There is a street parade to include show day. It is scheduled to leave the circus grounds about 10:30 o'clock.

IF THIN AND NERVOUS, TRY
PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Blue-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh, and To Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

When one stops to consider the host of thin people who are suffering today, it is not surprising to find that many of them are suffering from a lack of sufficient phosphorus in the human system. It is a very largely responsible fact, this condition, that many scientists have demonstrated beyond question of doubt that a body deficient in phosphorus becomes nervous, sickly and thin. It is a fact, too, that in many cases, the normal condition of the body is restored by the use of a phosphorus preparation.

While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals, it is a well-known fact that the lack of sufficient phosphorus in the human system is a very largely responsible factor. This condition, that many scientists have demonstrated beyond question of doubt that a body deficient in phosphorus becomes nervous, sickly and thin. It is a fact, too, that in many cases, the normal condition of the body is restored by the use of a phosphorus preparation.

It is a well-established fact that this deficiency in phosphorus may now be met by the use of an organic phosphate known throughout the English-speaking world as Blue-Phosphate. Through the assimilation of this phosphate by the nervous tissue the phosphorus content when absorbed in the amount usually required for the normal function of the body is restored. It is a well-known fact that the lack of sufficient phosphorus in the human system is a very largely responsible factor. PISCATAQUA RIVER AND ATLANTIC HEIGHTS FROM ELIOT, ME.

Hold rocks that rise above the foam. Beside the rushing roaring stream. There is no spot on earth I've known. Tending such charm to beauty's sea.

Atlantic food from ocean arms. With power unknown thy breast in torn.

Born in the depths of salt sea home. Divine the hand who shaped they form.

Hostile power that knows no change. Peace as the air, wild as the storm.

Mad as the storm, who grandly reigns. Where flowers and trees thy banks adorn.

Historic stream, your restless tide. Is never aged by thine grim law.

Now Hampshire points to you with pride. Deep, pure and beautiful Piscataqua.

COLONIAL.

An eight-reel film feature that presents the most dramatic moments of the battle in England in a most manner.

that the harshness of war is softened by the heart interest of romance, was offered as the chief attraction at the Colonial Theatre last night in Alan Hollander's "The Heart of Humanity." Miss Dorothy Phillips appeared in the principal role.

Mr. Hollander has succeeded in building an impressive film attraction that combines modern love and war in a splendid, harmonious and emphasizes the great work done by the women to relieve suffering.

Into the midst of the fighting in England, comes Miss Nanette, wife of an aviator in the Canadian Expeditionary Forces. She works night and day in a little convent that has been converted into a refuge for children.

Then the Prussians advance. Nanette is captured and comes face to face with a Prussian officer whose attentions had refused one day in her home in a little Canadian village. Finding he will conquer her, the girl sends herself just as her husband, who has escaped from a German prison, arrives on the scene. She recovers later in a hospital and returns to Canada, where she is reunited with her husband after the war.

The picture represents an achievement that is distinctive for the skillful handling of pathos and humor, and logical presentation of historical incidents in an entertaining manner.

Some of the scenes in "The Heart of Humanity" represent an enormous expenditure, particularly those representative of the battle of the Marne. The splendour, beauty of the little Canadian community in the first two reels of the production reflects more than ordinary skill in technical direction.

The cast of performers supporting Miss Phillips includes William Stowell, Margaret Mann, Robert Anderson, Pat O'Malley, Gloria Joy, Walt Whitman, George Mackintosh and others.

Arraignment From a High Source.

It is a bold thing to say that the people of this country do not stand equal before the law, and if the ordinary person were to make such a statement he would be regarded as one talking carelessly or not knowing what he was talking about. It is the boast of the country that all men stand on an equality before the law, but there are those who dispute this claim, and among them are men who cannot be classed as careless in their observations or in their speaking.

Among these is Reginald H. Smith, formerly counsel-in-chief to the Boston Legal Aid Society, who at a recent conference of the Massachusetts State Bureau of Immigration and the University Extension Department of the State Board of Education flatly said: "Rich and poor, strong and weak, intelligent and ignorant do not stand on an equality in the courts of America, and until we can guarantee equality before the law to the immigrants they are ripe material for sedition and disorder."

This is a plain and emphatic statement, and, coming from such a source, it is worthy of attention. It is not the talk of a careless and unthinking man, but of a professional man whose words are based on observations made by him in a position in which he gained his information at first hand. And he says, unqualifiedly, that different classes of people in this country do not stand equal before the law, notwithstanding the Declaration of Independence and the general contention that they do.

Probably due to his experience as counsel for the Boston Legal Aid Society, Mr. Smith appears to feel that immigrants are the worst sufferers from the condition of which he complains, but others who have watched the workings of the courts will hardly agree that such is the case. They have seen the poor and friendless sentenced in cases from which men of means and influence could easily free themselves, and those upon whom the "majesty of the law" was vindicated were not necessarily immigrants. They were simply men who, in most cases, deserved all they got. The trouble is that others deserving the same treatment are in too many instances able, by means well known, to escape the penalty of their misdeeds.

Mr. Smith finds that one great defect in the administration of law is delay, "which fights for the man with the long pocketbook," and all who have had occasion to watch court proceedings will agree with him. He further finds that a lack of means for the employment of counsel is a great drawback to the poor man who is haled into court, and he thinks the remedy for this is for the state to provide counsel for all who cannot afford to provide it for themselves. But this is a proposition that might easily be carried too far, when a man is caught with a bag of stolen chickens over his shoulder, it would be a hardship to tax payers to compel them to pay a shyster lawyer for trying to clear him.

The proper remedy for the inequality that exists is for the courts to vindicate the theory of the law, which is that all men stand equal before them, whether they are rich or poor, high or low. Verdicts and sentences should be based on the evidence and not on a man's social or financial standing. That there are at least many instances in which they are not so based is the open declaration of a man who knows whereof he speaks. It is a condition that will have to be changed sooner or later if the country is to be made safe for democracy.

It is not altogether comforting to be told that a greater export of coal is necessary as a means of "stimulating production and insuring a sufficient supply for domestic needs next winter." But that is what a dispatch from Washington blandly informs us.

If the rum runners in Maine pay no more attention to the electric signs, "Stop—Sheriff," than people hereabouts do to safety gates at railroad crossings some of the lights are liable to be suddenly and violently extinguished.

A German submarine of the latest type is to be brought to the Portsmouth Navy Yard for the study of the construction force there. But are Americans willing thus early to begin taking lessons from the Germans?

The Methodists of the country are offering a prize for the best name for the boozeless saloon. If we were to enter the contest our offering would be, "There ain't no such thing."

It would be a poor time just now to start an anti-lynching campaign in Kittery.

How long will it be before Victory gardens will be calling for rain?

June weddings are now in order. Also June commencement.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

A Jug of Ginger Ale and Thou
 (From the New York Sun)
 Should the birthday of the good grape peel, Omai, be celebrated on July 1 or January 167? And with sarsaparilla or ginger ale?

Money in Sugar
 (From the Hartford Courant)
 Cuba has a lot of sugar to sell this year, and it is bringing in a lot of money. According to a statement made by Walter M. Van Dusen, assistant manager of the Mercantile Bank of the Americas, up to May 15 about 3,400,000 tons of the present sugar crop have been ground and at least 600,000 tons are represented by the cane which remains standing at present prices this 4,000,000-ton crop will bring a return of about $225,000,000.

Useless Bait
 (From the Detroit Free Press)
 Ordinarily a political party which controls a government throughout a successfully uneventful period of national peril has a record to present to its country. Usually it can go into a general election and ask for support on the strength of what it has done for the land. But Chairman Cummins and his fellow members of the Democratic national committee do not attempt anything so rash as this, for they know that to hold up their party record for the last six years would be to dangle a nightmare before the voters, and they are quite confident that the Republicans will do everything necessary along that line.

Illinois Behind Lowden Boom
 (From the Washington Post, Ind't.)
 "A lot of Republicans in Illinois are enthusiastic about Gov. Lowden as a Presidential candidate," remarked George B. McCook, of Chicago. "They see in the governor a chance to put Illinois on the map again in a national way. 'Uncle Joe' was the last Illinoisan to make Illinois famous and since then we haven't had much in a political advertising way. Indeed, Illinois has not had a great deal in politics nationally for a long time, and inasmuch as it is an important Republican State, it is about time that it was recognized. Gov. Lowden is a good Republican; he has been the best governor Illinois has had in many years, and he would make, geographically and in every other way, a strong candidate. If the Republican party is looking for a man to lead the party then it had better cast its eyes toward Illinois, notwithstanding the State went Republican by an overwhelming majority last time. Some few are talking about Mayor Thompson as a Presidential possibility, but the serious-minded do not consider him."

Hats Off to the Regular
 (From "Giants Talk of the Day" in the Philadelphia Press)
 Some years ago "Life" printed a bulky cartoon of a soldier and a pretty girl. "I ain't no hero," said the war-worn veteran. "I'm only a regular." In these home-coming days, too, many forget that every "regular" is also somebody's son. But of all the States, Pennsylvania will be most gold-blooded if it fails to remember its regulars.

When the call came to fill up the ranks of the Regular Army divisions, the enlistments from Pennsylvania outnumbered those from every other State. Thus, we contributed the greatest personnel to the regular army. And you know that the killed and wounded in the First and Second Regular Divisions exceeded by 10,000 each those in our gallant Iron Division which led the old State Guards of the entire Union.

Who regular was first "over there," and he will be the last to come home. Today he holds the Rhine and he is the "Big Stick" who will enforce our peace terms on a beaten but stubborn foe.

Watching the regiments of United States regulars storm San Juan Hill, the British observer, Captain Lea, exclaimed:

"By God, this is a great day for the Anglo-Saxon race!"

It was those 100,000 British regulars who, dying almost to a man, saved England and the Channel ports from the Hun in his first savage burst thru Belgium.

It was the French regular under Joffre who saved Paris and the world at the Marne.

It was the slight of our first 100,000 American regulars, illie and brown and eager to fight, which put a chill in Ludendorff's heart and made him realize that the Boche was lost.

At the battle of the Argonne, that prince of sea-dogs yelled across the smoky waters to his Spanish foe:

"I am Francis Drake and my matchless crew is burning."

over. They have lost two essential attributes of private ownership. They controlled neither their income nor their outgo. Higher rates have added a billion to income, but expenditures, chiefly in higher wages, are up a billion and a half. Private managers would struggle nearly as valiantly to reduce the balance as government agents have done. Railroad managers, whether public or private, are not miracle workers and cannot draw rabbits from an empty hat.

The work of education on the railway question is not finished. It is scarcely begun. Having destroyed railway prosperity in one burst of hysterical unreason, it will do no particular good to bundle them back to their former owners in another burst. No one seems seriously to want to invest money in or to keep money in the railroad business unless there is a reasonable prospect of getting it back. The realities cannot be successfully glossed over either at Washington or in the office of the committees working to bring government operation to an end.

A Tribute to Seaman'ship
 (From the Washington Post)
 It is apparently as impossible to make the fine points of seaman'ship intelligible to a landsman as it is to explain the fineness of a sacrifice hit to a debutante at her first baseball game. But in the Navy there is no ability an officer may display that will win him as much unanimous commendation from his fellow officers as proficiency in seaman'ship. There is an admiral in the service known by all as a "sun-downer." In landsman's parlance a hard-boss, but any junior officer is glad to cruise under his command, because he is an expert in seaman'ship, a first-rate sailor man.

Some misunderstanding of this importance attached to seaman'ship is necessary to appreciate the Navy's estimate of the work done by Commander John H. Towers in bringing the N-C-3 into port after living two nights in a gale and travelling 205 miles through seas 30 feet high and very steep. To the landsman this is a thrilling adventure heroically met. But the sailor man adds something to his appreciation of it which does even more honor to Commander Towers, for he sees in this feat a display of seaman'ship maintaining the best traditions of the service.

Hence naval officers say that the N-C-3's experience will prove a very valuable contribution to the new science evolving from a union of aerial and marine navigation. The N-C-3 did not simply live through the 50-mile gale she encountered after she was forced to night. It was Commander Towers's seaman'ship that brought her through. He saved his ship under the most adverse circumstances by his clever handling of her, and in the Navy that means everything.

Still Moving Up
 (From the New York World)
 Trustees of Cornell University, having increased the salaries of professors have increased the tuition fees, also. Parents who have to pay the tuition fees will presumably charge more for something they have to sell and their customers will find it necessary to increase the price of something to make up the difference. There is no lack at the present time of illustrations of the "vicious circle" of price-raising.

The Mexican Menace
 (From the New York Evening Sun)
 The State Department is probably quite right in refusing to permit the passage of Carranzista Mexican troops thru Texas, to operate against Villa, but the reason offered are peculiar. We are told, officially, that the Government's decision was based on the belief that the force which it was proposed to move through Arizona, New Mexico and Texas would not be able to furnish protection to American citizens in northern Mexico, because the revolutionists had cut the road between Juarez and Chihuahua.

If American citizens in northern Mexico are in such peril that a body of over 2000 Mexican troops cannot protect them it is not time for us to take a hand? Have we no troops of our own? The ending of the State Department amounts to a charge that Carranza cannot maintain order and provide safety. Is it not a corollary, beyond escape, that if that be so it is our own duty to act?

The Mitchell Memorial
 (From the Brooklyn Eagle)
 The plan of the Mitchell Memorial Committee for a playground in Central Park to occupy the site of the old reservoir now has some excellent features. It is almost certain to be opposed, however, by those who object to every use of Central Park which departs from its original design, and it remains to be seen whether the present city authorities will show themselves anxious to facilitate the project.

The plan has as its chief feature an oblong lagoon with playgrounds on each side of it, with a wading pool for little children at its upper end, and a music stand and promenade with seats running along the outer edges, so that people may hear either music speaking from the stand in comfort.

The committee proposes to defray the cost of the memorial, some $350,000, but the Board of Estimate must give its consent to the use of the park space, and the matter is now before its committee of city planning.

The idea of memorials for service rather than monuments or arches is steadily growing in favor. No plan which involves so distinctive and so greatly needed a service has been proposed, and its fitness to perpetuate

TWO KILLED IN RIOTS AT OVERLAND PLANT

(By Associated Press)
 Toledo, O., June 4.—Operations at the Willis-Overland Automobile Co. were at a standstill today as a result of the rioting last night in which 17 persons were shot to death and 17 were injured. The plant opened a week ago Monday after two weeks of idleness. The dead men, it is said, were not involved in the labor disputes and were never employed at the Overland plant. They were in the crowd which congregated about the fire station when discharged soldiers guarding the plant arrived in response to a riot call.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

Editor:—
I see by the evening paper that they want a celebration for the returning soldiers on July 4th. May I be pardoned as a discharged soldier who has done his bit in France, in expressing my opinion. In the first place why not wait until all of the boys are home. There are now in France a great many boys from this city and many more in the service in this country. They will not be home by the Fourth. Then again I rather think the rank and file of the discharged men are sick and tired of celebrations etc., and want to be let alone for a time. It will cite in support of my opinion the fact at the Portsmouth Theatre on Memorial night when six men appeared out of 119. By the way I see that the paper thinks that the highly paid workers of the War Camp Community Service could take charge of it. Possibly they could, they certainly seem to have money enough to spend, but again I refer to the Welcome Home Service on Memorial night, as attesting to their popularity with the soldier.

Possibly I may be a pessimist and not think as the other discharged soldiers, but I am sure that there are many who will agree with me. Let us alone, we are home and we are glad to be living and be at home, which is sufficient unto itself. For one I want to forget the war.

Editor:—As a member of the Atlantic Guard and a man who likes sports of all kinds, I am writing to ask through your paper how long the Quail team of Quinn and Hayes has been known in sporting circles and what a time they must have had in passing through their fragmentary and distorted visions during one of their sleeping periods.

From all I can learn of this quail team they must have issued the challenge to some female team as no man at the Atlantic shipyard ever heard where they would meet any team in any kind of sport. Up to the present this world beating team are on record as a couple of native fakers and never won a prize in their lives at anything other than throwing the ball.

LIFE HOLDS NOTHING BETTER

Man That Has Contentment in His Heart Need Seek No Further for Happiness.

Discontent with his lot in life is the great curse of the man of ordinary estate in this world. To have the things that are beyond his reach consume him with a ceaseless fire. Such men, as a rule, have enough and to spare, but this does not seem to satisfy them. If they would only determine to be content with what they have they would be happy.

The consequence is that they make a dismal failure of a life that could easily have been a great success as far as their happiness is involved. And, without happiness it were better that a man had not lived at all.

Then we have the man who has all the wealth and power and maybe all the glory that he craves, but who is in constant fear that it will be taken away from him; that he will lose his worldly possessions or that somebody will rob him of the limelight.

Contentment never sleeps under the roof of such a man. Wherefore, of what good to him is all that he has?

Now, if the man who wants that which is beyond his reach could school himself to be like Paul, "content in whatsoever state" he found himself, he would get things out of life that he never dreamed of. He would sleep soundly and awake in gladness. And if the man who has all the wealth he has craved could school himself to feel that it wouldn't matter if he were to lose it all, he would also sleep soundly and awake in gladness.

Who among us that would wish to go through life and miss the biggest thing there is in life? Well, the least thing on earth can have that big thing for his very own simply by a motion of the mind that God gave him when he was born.

The big thing in life—its name is Contentment. It lies at your feet. Take it up and let it warm you.—Olen Globe.

VENICE HAD FIRST THEATRE

Buildings Designed Solely for Performances Were Erected in the Italian City in the Year 1629.

The theater proper began in Venice in 1629, when comedy and melodrama, hitherto presented on temporary stages erected in the squares or in the halls of palaces, passed into buildings especially made for that purpose. Pope Molmenti, the Italian historian, relates that the earliest genuine musical drama heard in Venice was the "Proserpine" of Claudio Monteverdi. From 1637 onward theaters rose so rapidly that by the close of the Seventeenth century there were 18 in Venice; some were devoted to comedy, others to music, others again were used indifferently for comedy or melodrama. Almost all the theaters belonged to gentlemen who reserved boxes for themselves and took the rest for the buffet. The Council of Ten settled the hour of the performance and the length of time it might take. The advertisements were posted at the piazzetta and at Rialto, while criers went through the town to announce the play and the hour when the house would open.

The Money Cowry.

The occurrence of the money cowry in Ireland and England has a curious origin. This species, a native of the tropics, is used as current coin in certain parts of Africa. Some years ago it was very abundant on the coast of Cumberland near the mouth of the Colder river. The specimens are believed to have come from the Glen-down, a vessel wrecked off Sealouse in a fog in 1873. She was homeward bound from Minna and carried 60 tons of cowries as part of her cargo. As this means about 70,000,000 shells, it may well be that money cowries will be picked up on our northwestern coast for many years to come. Those found earlier on the coasts of Down, Ireland, were supposed to have come from a slave ship wrecked in the neighborhood.

South African Timber.

It is not so very long ago that South African timber was taken all round, considered of little value. Now that imported timber has gone up in the market, many virtues have been discovered in the native timber which previously were unknown. In consequence, South African timber has come to the front, so that it figures prominently in many instances. Spruce timber, such as Cape pine, poplar, yellow wood, blue gum and other varieties, cut into standard deals of 3 by 3 inches, is quoted at 10 1/2 pence to 1 shilling per foot. This timber is used mostly for boxes and packing cases, as well as substitutes in the mines and buildings for the imported Baltic woods.

Russia's Greatest Ruler.

St. Petersburg, the modern capital of Russia, now known as Petrograd, was founded in 1703 by Peter the Great, who died 121 years ago. Peter first built a small hut for himself and a few wooden huts. The majority of nobles, however, preferred that Moscow should remain the seat of government, but Peter was determined to build a new capital, and in 1711 he laid, with his own hands, the foundation of his palace, which was built of brick. Peter was an extraordinary character and Russia's rise to a great power was entirely due to his genius.

FRIENDS OF IRISH FREEDOM.

Patrick Murphy, a leading lawyer of Dover, who gave an address at the last meeting, was one of the most interesting and instructive speakers who have been heard here. While he spoke on the Irish question he dwelt at length on the duty of Irish-American voters not to be tied irrevocably to a political party and to leaders who have failed to consider the desires and the rights of those who were chiefly responsible for the success of these leaders and their party. He was warmly applauded throughout his remarks and it is safe to say that were an election to be held in Portsmouth tomorrow, many would be the surprises at the result.

The drive for new members closes next Sunday and members of all teams are doing their utmost to win individual and team honors and to achieve the real object of the drive—a large membership that more may know and keep in touch with Irish political affairs.

The committee on the Victory Fund is working hard. They report such success that Portsmouth's quota seems to be an assured fact. However there must be no let-up on the part of anyone.

Rev. M. P. Griffin, the eloquent chaplain of St. Mary's Academy, will speak here on Sunday evening, June 23, next. Father Griffin and Ex-Sayer Carley of Boston were the headliners at the great public meeting recently held in Manchester.

Irish-American societies have been greatly amused by the anxiety felt by the English press and the English radio classes on account of the visit to Ireland of Hon. Frank P. Walsh, Hon. Edward Dineen and Hon. Michael J. Ryan. Relieved of their fright over the possible loss of enormous taxes and highly paid officers, they now laugh at what they term the gullibility of the Irish and the impractical statements of the Irish-American delegates when, as a matter of fact, the English themselves were the gullible ones and it would be extremely difficult to find in England or elsewhere three men as practical and astute as Messrs. Walsh, Ryan and Dineen. We are proud of our representatives, proud of the Irish in Ireland, who refuse to be provoked into armed resistance by the effrontery of hundreds of thousands of English soldiers. It is the stock that has made us such exemplary Americans in times of war and peace.

The meeting next Sunday evening should be a momentous one with reports of the Victory Fund Committee, the membership committee, the committee on public meetings and nominations for officers for the next six months. All members are urged to be present. A class of new members may be initiated if there is time.

The membership is now nearly 400. It is to be hoped that we pass the 500 mark. Among questions besides the Irish question there will be discussed questions of education, hygiene, child welfare, and other topics of interest, including local state and national politics. These are added reasons for a large membership.

BUSINESS HAS TREATY DENIED THE SENATE

Washington, June 3.—Senator Lodge told the Senate today he had seen in the hands of business interests in New York a copy of the treaty with Germany, given out by an American representative at Paris, but withheld by the State Department from the Senate.

Will Labor Stand Treaty?

Washington, June 3.—With American labor stand for the labor action of the peace treaty? This is a new and disturbing inquiry raised in relation to certain provisions of the German treaty of which no knowledge has yet been permitted to reach the American public. Copies of the treaty as circulated in Germany have reached this country, and notwithstanding senatorial official ignorance of the document, it has been seen at the Capitol and is being studied at the Capitol by senators who find themselves shocked at all the things to which the labor provisions go. They provide, it is declared, for an internationalization of labor to a degree that is inconceivable; it is to be assumed that American labor was consulted before the labor action was written. Senators who have studied the section say that the ideas of Lenin are embodied in the treaty almost as completely as if the notorious Bolshevik had inserted them himself. The emancipation of labor is to be accomplished, according to students of the document, by the creation of an independent labor conference consisting of four representatives each of the signatory nations. Two of these are to be elected by the Government and two are to be non-Government men or women, one selected by organized labor and the other by the employers. It is provided, however, that should one of the non-Government nominations prove unacceptable to the conference, he may be rejected, in which case the country presenting him would remain unrepresented. The purpose of this provision, it is supposed, is to safeguard the character of the representation, but it is pointed out that should Samuel Gompers, for example, favor a delegate named by the American Federation of Labor and the conference prefer one of the I. W. O. stripe, the substitution could be made.

The jurisdiction of the conference in labor matters appears to be unlimited, touching conditions of labor at every point and in every industry, including transportation. The scheme proposes a complete internationalization of labor, of such a character as to deprive the American workman of the full freedom of action he hitherto has enjoyed with respect to his own welfare. The plan is conceived, it is presumed, on the theory that through an international council of labor conditions in other countries will be elevated to the American plan. But it is obvious, it is pointed out, that the device must work both ways. For example, the balance of power in the international labor conference must necessarily lie with the competitors of the American workman—Great Britain, alone will have 24 votes to 1 of the United States—and it is asking a good deal of human nature to suppose that, with this power in their hands, the rivals of American workmen will use it exclusively to benefit their American brothers. As the document is studied, senators say, they cannot avoid the conviction that American workmen, the best paid in the world, are being asked to incur the danger of injuring their own interests for the benefit of foreigners with no more compensation than other sections of the treaty provide for the protection of American interests. In the general field, perhaps of the document strengthens the impression, it is said, that in an effort to improve the world the United States is now called upon to tie its own hands in the labor field.

LOST BICYCLES ARE EVIDENTLY MANY.

Evidently a good number of bicycles have been lost in this city or suburbs of late, according to a response to an ad in the Chronicle of Tuesday telling of one being found. Through an oversight the telephone number of the person who found the wheel was omitted in the ad when it was sent in. All of 25 persons who were looking for a lost bicycle, called up to inquire who found the wheel in an effort to ascertain if it were the one they had lost. The owner of the wheel has been found, however, and proved that the one referred to in the Chronicle was his property.

BAKER PERMITS BIG SALE OF FOOD TO RUSSIANS

In Exchange Will Receive $25,000,000
Worth of Raw Material

Washington, June 3.—Secretary Baker told the House Military Committee today he had authorized the sale of $25,000,000 worth of surplus food stocks held by the Army to the Co-operative Purchase Society of Russia. The society is composed of 20,000,000 heads of families, and will give in exchange for the food raw materials needed in the United States.

Mr. Baker said in reply to questions that some of the food probably would reach the Bolsheviks.

K. OF C. NOTES

The Second Degree was exemplified at the house Monday evening on thirty candidates.

There will be a third Degree on Friday evening.

The weekly dance for men of the service will be on Thursday evening. Films made under the supervision of the Department of the Interior will be taken to France by Miss Elizabeth Marbury for exhibition in K. of C. halls there and in the territory of the Army or Occupation. The films, which were taken in all parts of the United States, depict the attractions, financial and social of American land life and have been entitled "God's Own Country" on this account.

The object in taking these films abroad for display is not only to show the soldiers the advantage of remunerative work on the land, but also to provide additional educational entertainment in showing the boys intimate scenes of rural life in their home land.

The K. of C. have now some 200 places abroad where American service men are being constantly entertained, and Miss Marbury will plan a tour of the films which will insure every man overseas an opportunity of seeing it. In conjunction with the exhibition of the films the Knights are preparing to aid men who may be attracted to a livelihood on the land by accepting their applications for this sort of work and putting those applications through the extensive machinery of K. of C. job-finding in this country.

Positions for 20 wounded men to learn the jewelry trade were offered to the Knights of Columbus by Joseph Polys of the Polys Watch Co., 15 Maiden Lane, New York City. The men will be given work in the Polys factory at Sag Harbor, L. I., New York, among attractive surroundings and be paid $18 per week while they are learning the trade.

The experiment being conducted by the Knights of Columbus at the suggestion of Joseph C. Pelletier of Boston, a member of the K. of C. was notified committee and District Attorney of the city, of paying selected experienced men $4 per day to find work for their comrades, in meeting with surprising success.

The K. of C. flying wedge of job-hunters, as it has been called, commenced its drive for work in New York City early in the week, one hundred soldiers, sailors and marines going over distinct zones of the business, industrial and mercantile sections of the city under the direction of Peter W. Collins, the K. of C. employment director.

The men stormed various plants, especially the large electrical and manufacturing concerns. They presented the claims of the veterans of the Great War for work, and the employment managers of the big concerns responded generously. On the first day out 537 jobs were found, an average of nearly six jobs for each man. Skilled and unskilled callings were represented in the list of jobs gathered and not one job was accepted in a concern where disputes exist between employers and employees. Jobs were found for 150 men in a sugar refinery, 50 stenographers were accommodated, 75 salesmen, 60 clerks, 60 bookkeepers, 30 automobile mechanics, 6 electricians, 12 machinists, 10 tailors, 20 pressmen, 10 linotype operators, and so on.

One of the job-hunters, Joseph H. Schaefer, found a $30 job with an express company which he took himself, so another job-hunter was enlisted in the flying wedge to take Schaefer's place.

Reports are not at hand for the second day's drive, but it is estimated that the K-C offensive against the no-job list will result in over 1500 jobs a week for ex-service men.

Chairman William J. Mulligan of K. of C. states the method of paying veterans to find jobs for other veterans will be employed in other cities if can be successfully here.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers—No pain!

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic!

A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Freezone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

K. OF C. SHUT OUT THE Y. M. C. A.

SUNSET LEAGUE

Games this week.
Wednesday—Southern vs. P. A. C.
Thursday—Navy Yard vs. Y. M. C. A.

The Knights of Columbus defeated the Y. M. C. A. in the Sunset league on Tuesday evening by a score of 3 to 0. "Tug" Driscoll was in the box for the K. C. and he allowed only one hit and but one pass. He received good support from the entire team.

Elche pitched for the losing team and he was touched for five hits which combined with errors gave the K. C. the game. The Knights' bunting hits in the first and fourth innings. In the first inning Connors playing first for the Knights had his hand spiked and had to retire from the game. Phillips had hit to Fish who threw wide to first and Connors in trying to get the ball fell and Phillips stepped on his hand.

The game was well played and there were two fast plays. Both teams look good for the opening and there is every indication that they will play good ball all through the schedule.

The K. C. scored one run in the opening, Moran singled and McWilliams followed suit, Moran going to third, Kelley was hit by a pitched ball hitting the bases, McWilliams rolled a grounder to Elche who fumbled long ending, Moran singled and McWilliams enough for Moran to score, Timmons struck out, Francis fled to Cragen who's quick return kept McWilliams at third, Connors was thrown out by McCarthy. One run.

Kirkpatrick was thrown out by Kelley, Cragen fanned, Phillips reached first when Fish made a wild heave of his grounder and Thomas advanced him a with a single, which proved to be their only hit, Hicks fanned.

The Knights had but a short session in the second, after Fish had fled to Cragen, Driscoll singled but he was doubled a second later when Moran hit to Bonin who tagged second and got Moran at first.

Bonin was hit by a pitched ball and went to second while McCarthy was being retired at first by Fish, Elche drove a pass, Bonin took third on a balk, Clarke fled to Moran in center who doubled Elche at first.

In the third McWilliams fled to Clark, Kelley to Cragen and McWilliams to Elche.

The Y. M. C. were out in order, Kirkpatrick fanned, Cragen was thrown out.

ONE MAN'S BEST INVESTMENT

"Special" Account Opened by Manager of Big Enterprises Has Paid Big Dividends.

An American business man had become convinced of the reasonableness of the doctrine of man's stewardship. He had thought it all out and decided that it might be a good thing to try the experiment. His various business enterprises had prospered; his income was constantly increasing; he could do things which he might have done but had not. One night he lay awake pondering the whole matter, and before going to sleep prayed over it. Then he made up his mind, says the Christian Herald. Next morning he instructed his bookkeeper to open in the ledger a new account, in his name, and marked "Special," to which the bookkeeper should regularly carry one-tenth of all the profits. He wanted him never to fail to have the "Special" account ready when called for.

And that business man's "Special" has never failed. It has been to him a wonderful revelation of the capacity of a man immersed in big enterprises for doing good on a large scale as a side line. It has helped to build churches, to promote the gospel, to support missionaries, to maintain and train orphans, to bring gladness to homes of suffering and to many shut-ins. He has had a hand in a hundred noble enterprises for Christ and humanity. And the most extraordinary thing about it is that it has given him a new zest for business, having, as he himself would say reverently, God as a silent partner. It has not only been a means of blessing his business, but it has purified his whole life, ennobled his character and made him ten times a better man.

MEANS END OF ALL THINGS

Number "30," Originally Newspaper Symbol, Has Come to Have Significance of Dire Import.

By frequent reference to it, noted by newspaper readers, doubtless the meaning of that cabalistic symbol "30" has become familiar to many. But this incident and explanation is printed in connection with the obsequies of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in the Montreal La Patrie. "What does that signify?" was asked by thousands who fled past the casket of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and had renounced the bouquet of flowers upon which lay the symbol "30" in red figures. This fatal tribute was given by members of the press gallery in the Dominion parliament. For them this number means the same as the words which the great departed pronounced some days after being stricken by his impaled: "It is ended." (Crest flut.) The origin of this conventional symbol has been lost in the traditions of journalism, but after each night and at the end of every day the conventional "30" traversed the continent from end to end. Editors in line adopted the sign "30" to inform the staff, the various news departments and the composing room that all the "copy" was finished and that there would be nothing more to print. Finally, for newspaper men, the number "30" became the symbol of the end of all things of earth, and even of life.

Yanks Like French Souvenirs. Yankee soldiers are keeping the French shops busy these days. Souvenirs of France and various regions and cities of France are all the go. Among these souvenirs are brooches bearing the arms of different cities. The head of the famous Lion of Belfort, the statue of Bartholdi, the sculptor who designed the goddess of Liberty, is another favorite. The Lorraine cross has also proved very popular with the Yanks. This symbol has two sets of cross arms instead of one. It appears particularly to the Americans because of the part which the Yanks played in Lorraine during the war. The Red Cross dog and the lucky white elephant charm are other French souvenirs which the Americans are procuring in large numbers to take back to the States.—From The Spiker, France.

Famous Old Inn Gone. The city of Augsburg has seen the last of that famous inn, "Drei Mohren" or preferably, in sonorous French, "Hotel des Trois Maures." The Bavarian revolution has demolished it with the famous room and fireplace in which the famous Puggen, to save his life, hid a fire with all those "O. O. U.'s" awkward reminders of a monarch's indebtedness. It was in this hostelry, too, that Marie Antoinette put up on her way to France to become the wife of the dauphin. Over the lintel of the "Trois Maures" were carved the lilies of France in commemoration of the event. Now the inn and the lilies have disappeared in another such cataclysm as swept Marie Antoinette to the guillotine, some hundred and twenty-four years ago.

They Were Prepared. The wife of an Indianapolis merchant was recently quite sick. One day after she had improved a bit and her seven-year-old son had been permitted in her room for a little visit, she voiced the thought that had worried her all the time while she had been ill. "Tell," she asked, "what would you have done if mother had died?"

Back came Teddy's startling answer: "Oh, the girls could have gone to grandmother's to live and papa and I—well, we've gotten us a new wife right away."
